DOCTORS' MISTAKES

Are oft called to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or over-busy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and pills. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better. The cause of the wrong treatment, but probably worse, a proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription directed to the cause, would have cured the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and feeble woman generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in the treatment of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "run-down," run-down, debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve tonic, "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the constitutional. The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a local mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood elements.

The "Night Cure" as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surface, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative, a tonic, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well.

THE JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION.

Every human endeavor whatsoever that reaches the general public must submit to the criticism of the ignorant and the incompetent. There are none so rash and so ready with their judgments as the empty-headed. Having nothing whatever on hand with which to compare a product or an experience, the verdict degenerates into the simple question of whether the empty head chances to be accompanied or not by a comfortable digestion; for many men, as the great humanist said centuries since, are no better than sacks through which nourishment passes. The Jamestown Exposition has been especially exposed to this type of humanity; namely, the nourishment sack. A gentleman recently heard the whole exposition and all that is in it roundly abused, together with the whole South, its origin, history, and progress, by two dry-goods drummers in the train, and when, after patient questioning and careful probing, he came to the foundation of their distrust and dislike, it proved to be an absence of corned-beef hash for breakfast at their hostelry.

This deficiency had so outraged and upset their equilibrium that the whole locality was seen through their wrath and indignation. We all know the lady who denounces the whole American civilization because gloves are cheaper and better in France, but it sometimes seems as if we were less ready to detect the reporter of the dry-goods drummer type of mind.

The Jamestown Exposition has had to submit to a sad amount of the callow reporter's judgments. The truth is that a judgment upon it requires some mental background. It is smaller and rarer than other expositions have been. Put forth by an established and a provincial people—provincial in the sense in which Greece itself was provincial, as having faith in and caring for its own indigenous types and customs—making almost no attempt at glare and cheap and vulgar attractions for the dry-goods drummers and the callow reporters, it can only be judged by a student of history, a patriot, an artist.

No more beautiful site has ever been chosen for an exposition. Stretched along the broad expanse of Hampton Roads, with the smooth, soft, glassy southern waters lazily lapping its miles of frontage, with the groves of tropical-looking pines, like majestic feather dusters standing on end, with the soft brown carpet beneath of dead pine needles called "shadblow" (from shattered) by the negroes, in an atmosphere almost as dream-laden as that of southern England lies the white and pink colonial city and its rare southern trees. On either side of the Auditorium Building, low, white and dome-crowned, are two enormous Paulonia trees of incalculable age, with their huge branches of purple blossoms, lifting their heads upward like clusters of purple grapes standing on end, and, later in the season, still raising their masses of brown cups, tan and chestnut, large and small, among the great green leaves. Hedges and bushes everywhere of laurel and bay, the bay that when it is chafed gives forth a sweet and aromatic odor, run along the paths; a fence six to seven feet high smothered in masses of coral honeysuckle, ramblers, roses, and the great crimson bell of the trumpet-vine, stretches round the dull, soft greens of the southern landscape.

Little winding paths run through heavy thickets of crepe-myrtle, live-oak, and bay trees, where the indigo bunting birds play and the mocking-birds sing. Probably nowhere else, except in Italy and Greece, can one see such splendor of surprise and sunset over the soft lines of flat land and smooth sea, such opal tints of changing gold and crimson and bright green, such masses of winged clouds hovering over the great daily drama of the earth's Lord and giver of life. But this is the sort of magnificence that will console the lover of corned-beef hash? Never. He will be as blind as a mole or an oyster. Nor is he likely to be impressed as he walks through the low Colonial buildings and sees the great products of educational endeavor, the exhibits of the schools all over the country, of the blind and deaf and dumb institutions, of the life-preserving devices, of the agricultural improvements, of the development of farming implements, and of machinery, to think of what so marvelous a national progress, since a few stalwart gentlemen adventurers touched here upon the virgin forest, may signify. Nor will he be interested in the speech of the people, although there is hardly an idiom of the locality which is not familiar to the student of Elizabethan drama.

Here is crystallized the speech and many of the social customs of the courts of the Stuarts, a bit of the undestroyed past, so soon inevitably to vanish, and yet so precious, so worthy of thoughtful investigation while it lasts.

If real coffee disturbs your Stomach, your Heart or Kidneys, then try this Clever Coffee imitation—Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. Dr. Shoop has very closely matched Old Java and Mocha Coffee in flavor and taste, yet it has not a single grain of real coffee in it. Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted grains or cereals, with Malt, Nuts, etc. Made in one minute. No tedious long wait. You will surely like it. Get a free sample at our store E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.

You will recognize Arbuckles' Ariosa Coffee in the cup, any time, by the taste. That "taste" identifies it as the straight, pure Brazilian and distinguishes it from the make - believe Mocha and Java, and sundry other misbranded or misnamed impostures.

The improvement in the quality of Ariosa is the natural consequence of our own commercial development, and promises more for the future. Sold in a sealed package only, for your benefit.

But alas! to the lover of corned-beef hash, corned-beef hash shall be the horizon and the limit forever and for aye. And to the callow smart youth of quick verdicts we can but utter Rossetti's ultimate curse upon the lost soul, "Thou art thyself, thro' all eternity."

Is it not curious enough to love hash more than architecture, and bustle and haste better than the glowing beauty of the earth, and funny shows better than rare collections?

The whole truth is that the Jamestown Exposition is completely over the heads and beyond the comprehension of many of its culprits. But to the student, to the experienced traveler, to any man of trained perceptions, it offers a wealth of material for thought and study and delight. [L. C. W. in Harper's Weekly.]

Attack of Diarrhoea Cured by One Dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

I was so weak from an attack of diarrhoea that I could scarcely attend to my duties, when I took a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It cured me entirely and I had been taking other medicine for nine days, without relief. I heartily recommend this remedy as being the best to my knowledge for bowel complaints.—R. G. Stewart, of the firm of Stewart & Bro., Greenville, Ala. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Gibson & Timberman.

Health in the Canal Zone.

The high wages paid makes it a mighty temptation to our young artisans to join the force of skilled workmen needed to construct the Panama Canal. Many are restrained however by the fear of fever and malaria. It is the knowing ones—those who have used Electric Bitters, who go there without this fear, well knowing they are safe from malaria influence with Electric Bitters on hand. Cures blood poison too, biliousness, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. 50c.
